

Silver exclusions — working board

Sticky capture from the August 21, 2025 merchant-exclusion session. Raw notes straight off the wall.

Facilitator: Marcus Adeyemi · Scribe: Jordan Mills · Legal: Hana Weiss

Also in the room: Tomas Rivera, Renee Alvarez, Sam Osei

Cluster — corporate expense platforms

Concur — books travel but it's an expense platform, not a travel seller

SAP Concur — same house, keep the pair together whatever we do

Expensify — cardholders keep flagging it in tickets (Renee)

Navan — travel-ish, but the billing entity is the platform

Cluster question on the wall: is "who bills" the cleanest test?

Cluster — hardware & gaming drop Apple? founders keep asking — MacBooks read as business spend to them

• • • ○ ○ ○

Microsoft — hardware AND software house; category coding decides, not the brand

Dell — clean hardware call, nobody argued

Xbox Game Pass · PlayStation Plus · Nintendo Switch Online — the gaming trio moves as one

The Apple question goes to the parking lot for a Legal read.

Cluster — online learning

Coursera / Udemy — course marketplaces, not tooling

LinkedIn Learning — the subscription reads like SaaS to customers

Skillshare + Pluralsight — same call either way, keep the set consistent whatever we do: one rule for all five

Renee: this cluster drives the least ticket volume of the three.

Parking lot

UNRESOLVED

Apple exclusion ask → needs a Legal read (Hana)

Gift-card resellers — separate cluster or out of scope?

Co-branded travel portals — category coding unclear (Tomas)

Intake path for future merchant asks — sketch a flow?

NEXT

Book a follow-up after Labor Day

Jordan photographs the wall and files this board