

Double Cash Back — Contact Center Briefing

Version 1.2 · 2024-12-02 · Owner: D. Kowalski, Support Enablement

Replaces v1.1 (2024-11-21) and the launch handout of 2024-11-13.

Updated with the enrollment and crediting decisions from the campaign decision threads (2024-11-20 and 2024-11-26).

What the first two weeks asked

THEME	SHARE OF PROMO CONTACTS	COVERED ON
"What do the doubled rates actually come out to?"	34%	Page 3
Excluded merchants during the promo	27%	Page 4
Enrollment, activation codes, opt-in	22%	Page 5
When the cash back shows up	11%	Page 5
Everything else (statements, add-on cards)	6%	Standard servicing paths

Shares from the enablement contact-theme tracker, 2024-11-14 through 2024-11-27. Volumes are context, not policy.

Rate answers

TRAVEL & SOFTWARE

10.0% × 2

For a transaction in the qualifying promotional window, travel and software purchases that normally earn 10.0% are multiplied by 2.

ALL OTHER PURCHASES

1.0% × 2

For a transaction in the qualifying promotional window, other purchases that normally earn 1.0% are multiplied by 2.

Say the multiplication, not a memorized product: whether a given charge sits in the travel/software bucket is decided by the card's standing category rules, and the customer's window is decided by the Final Terms deck — this page only doubles whatever the transaction already earns.

Excluded merchants during the promo

THE RULE

Merchant category exclusions continue to apply during the double-cash-back promo.

THE WORKED EXAMPLE

A charge at a merchant on the exclusions list earns the standard rate doubled — $1.0\% \times 2$ — during the customer's promotional window. The promotion multiplies the rate the transaction already qualifies for; it never re-qualifies the merchant.

The governing merchant list is the Business Silver "Exceptions and Exclusions" page — read it live, do not recite from memory. Customers will name specific platforms; the list is longer than the examples that stick in your head.

Enrollment and crediting — quote the decisions

Both questions were settled by the program owner in the campaign decision threads, and the decision emails are the wording to use:

- Enrollment / activation / opt-in — settled 2024-11-20 in the "enrollment mechanics" thread. Read the decision message to the customer-facing script verbatim; never paraphrase it into a summary.
- When the cash back appears — settled 2024-11-26 in the "crediting cadence" thread. Same instruction: the decision message is the script.

This page deliberately does not restate either decision. Enablement keeps pointers, the decision threads keep the words — that way a re-decision never leaves a stale copy in a briefing pack.

Sources of truth, in order

- Offer, window, eligibility, six-month clock — "Business Silver Double Cash Back — Final Terms" v3.2 (2024-11-12).
- Standing rates and merchant category exclusions — the Business Silver product pages, read live.
- Promo rate math and exclusions handling — this briefing, pages 3–4.
- Enrollment and crediting mechanics — the campaign decision threads (2024-11-20, 2024-11-26).

Escalations: unresolved rate math goes to Rewards Operations; anything that looks like a terms conflict goes to the program owner. Neither path is a customer promise.