For concept-stage review — numbers below are proposals, not commitments

WHY NOW

The acquisition case

- EcoCard applications have trailed the consumer-card portfolio since spring, while brand tracking shows the sustainability positioning tests best-in-portfolio.
- Competitor green-card launches are bidding up the same audience through Q4.
- A time-boxed opening bonus is the fastest lever we have not yet used on this product.

PROPOSED SHAPE

Working proposal

A 1,500-point opening bonus for new EcoCard customers, running September through October.

Bonus size, window, and spend qualification are all open items for the concept review. Finance has asked to model two bonus tiers before anything is locked.

OPEN ITEMS

What the review needs to settle

- Bonus size: is the proposed figure rich enough to move applications without repricing the book?
- Window length: a two-month flight is short for branch merchandising lead times.
- Spend qualification: whether to require a qualifying spend at all, and over what period.
- Compliance review path and disclosure language once terms are drafted.

NEXT STEPS

Path to a final deck

- Concept-stage reads from Compliance and Finance via the review folder; settle bonus size, window, and qualification approach.
- Finance modeling on the agreed shape; Compliance and Legal review of drafted terms.
- Final-terms deck to follow for approval — that deck, not this one, will carry the campaign's terms.
